Sales Outlook

Loans and Barter

Gold? Oh, No...

Bernard Baruch, wise old financier who was a close advisor of two war presidents — Wilson and Roosevelt — got back home this week from a month's tour of Europe.

He told the United Press in a dispatch dated New York July 28: "The United States should buy more of the world's products with its money instead of lending it to foreign governments."

That is a typical Baruch touch. The old man believes in good, solid private business — and nothing is more helpful to business than a good, solid sale.

Some of our folks are talking about running a barter deal abroad to get rid of surplus American cotton. And of course we are loaning a lot of money to foreign governments, on the assumption that they will get their citizens back on their feet so world trade can be resumed. But Baruch thinks maybe this is a bit far-fetched.

"We have the money. Why don't we do more buying and less lending? I can almost hear the old man saying: 'At least when we spend our money we won't be adding ourselves about getting anything for it except goods. These loans will never be repaid in anything except goods — so why not buy the goods outright and be done with it?'"

And as a final observation Mr. Baruch took a pot-shot at the English. Commenting on the Labor Government's near-bankruptcy, he said:

"One thing that I noticed about them is that they are spending too much of their time on nationalization and not devoting their energies to production and development of their country."

Baruch writes a good editorial; doesn't he?

Arkansas has its Ozarks and not the legend is spreading that there's gold in the hills.

Some witless soul dropped a rumor that $200,000 in gold coin was buried during the War Between the States, whereupon the Arkansas attorney general's office is flooded with letters like the one the Murry released to the Associated Press Thursday. A Kentucky woman wrote like:

"We feel so confident that this is Uncle George's money, as he has been unmentioned and would have the means to have a pot of gold."

They've given up finding Uncle George — but the search for dough is more durable.

But I do think 20th Century Treasury hunting is making us a race of softies. It used to be that to hunt buried treasure you first located a secret map, then traveled a thousand miles, chartered a boat, sailed to some tropical beachhead, and did a lot of hard digging — and no gold.

Now all you've got to do is write a letter to the attorney general, and make him dig for postage.

But human nature being what it is, if like Murry gets enough letters about buried treasure he may shoulder a shovel, slip off from the statehouse — and find out what's really cooking in the mountain country. For, according to the movies, the gold's always in them thar hills.

Canadian Breeze Cuts Heat Wave

By The Associated Press
Cooling breezes fanned out over the heat-weary midwest and headed into the sweltering eastern states today as the death toll from the oppressive weather mounted to more than 75.

The fresh Canadian air broke the week-long spell of hot and sticky weather over the central states yesterday and last night. It was moving eastward from 15 to 20 miles an hour and was expected to cover the eastern half of the country. The federal weather bureau at Chicago did not expect much of the cool air to drift into the hot southern states.

But it looked like another day of hot weather for most of the eastern states, extending the heat wave to two weeks in some areas. With the arrival of the welcome cool air, it was a pleasant mid-summer day in the central plains, the upper Mississippi valley and the upper Great Lakes region. No 90-degree temperatures were in prospect and there was a sharp reduction in humidity. The torrid eastern states can expect similar pleasant weather tonight and tomorrow, federal forecasters said.

The mercury was in the upper 60's in Chicago early today after a week of hot and humid weather. The death toll in the eastern states mounted as temperatures soared into the 90's and broke records for the date yesterday. There were scores of prostrations. Business establishments in many cities closed and sent employees home because of the stifling heat.

President Truman was among the thousands in Washington who sought relief from the blazing sun, and his staff left the 96.2 degree capital temperatures for more comfortable weather at a mountain-top hideaway in Maryland. Some 70,000 government employees were sent home early because of the heat.

Speed Can Be Deadly on Highway

What would be your chances of walking away, uninjured after driving your car off a 10-story building?

According to Director Herman E. Lindsey, of the Arkansas State Police, the physical effect is the same as if you hit a solid obstruction on the highway at 60 miles per hour — and the odds against your getting out of it unharmed are about the same.

At this speed your chances of being killed, rather than injured, are about eight times greater than they would be if you were traveling at 20 miles per hour. "Director Lindsey said, 'Special studies of rural accidents show that the higher the speed the greater the chances for death in case of accident.'"

Director Lindsey discussed these severity rates in connection with the Arkansas State Police's July campaign against excessive speed, which is being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council as a part of its continuing, year-around program on traffic safety.

Emphasis during July, according to the Arkansas State Police, will center on the motorist's personal responsibility for driving at speeds keeping within the condition of the road, the car, the weather, and other factors. "Speeders Lose," Director Lindsey said, "is more than a slogan. It is a cold statistically-based summing up of what drivers and pedestrians in about 10,000 accidents learn every year — the hard way."

Officials and representatives of the Reynolds Metals company made a last minute attempt today to write a new contract with the Arkansas CIO Steel Workers of America, 1,600 aluminum workers.

The CIO Steel Workers of America has set this midnight as deadline for an agreement on the contract. Members of the union have voted to strike unless the company comes to terms.

Two 15-day extensions of the present contract already have been granted.

Charles E. Smith, union sub-director, said last night the union and the company are as far apart as they were before a recent 10-day recess in negotiations.

The workers employed by Reynolds at its Hurricane Creek and Jones Mill aluminum plants and bauxite mines, are asking for wage increases, pension programs and elimination of the southern wage differential among other things.

Smith said last night the aluminum workers want a 12-1/2 cent across-the-board wage boost and a 17-1/2 cents raise for insurance, re-employment and other benefits.

Laborers at the company's three projects now receive $1.04 per hour; top craftsmen, $1.47.

Federal Mediator C. V. Emory is settling in the negotiations. Arkansas Labor Commissioner C. K. Call Jr., also has attended several of the conferences.

Chinese Reds Besiege U. S. Consulate

Shanghai, July 30 — (P) — The United States consulate was besieged again today by about 150 Chinese Shanghai employees of the U. S. navy.

The mob, like the one yesterday, demanded aggregate back pay and severance allowance equal to 6-1/2 months pay. It was made up of Chinese mostly, but there was a sprinkling of Indians and White Russians.

Consulate members were not permitted to leave the building. Those included acting Consul General Walter McConaughy, Naval Attaché Cmdr. Morgan Slayton and a military administrative attaché Reuben Thomas.

Others were permitted to come and go but only essential personnel reported for work today lest a general lock in developed.

Thirteen staff members remained in the building last night. The state department in Washington said the Communist police "flatly refused to intervene" after mobs seized the consulate yesterday.

The dispute goes back to swift withdrawal of navy units here before the Communists arrived. The workers claim they were not properly discharged; that they received no formal notice.

After the consulate was barred for a few days ago, Thomas opened negotiations with the workers and the Communist foreign affairs bureau. The attaché ultimately offered a settlement averaging three months pay. The navy and state departments approved it.

The foreign affairs bureau said it wanted to study the offer. The settlement was held up. Thomas said more than half of the workers were willing to accept.

The former employees became impatient. They contended that since no proper notice of dismissal was given, the navy was obligated to continue its payroll. They demanded two weeks additional pay in lieu of the notice and three months severance pay.

The demonstration began yesterday with a handful entering the building. Since small demonstrations have been commonplace, no particular alarm was felt until the numbers grew, and leaders announced the three consulate members could not leave the building.

Such retroactive pay disputes are by no means confined to foreigners. The Communists came in to Shanghai.

At the same time he announced officially that Yugoslavia is looking for loans. These include $200,000 from the International bank.

Approval of the loan would ease a lot of Yugoslavia's economic growing pains.

Tito also cleared the air a bit on a number of political points. He said Yugoslavia planned to close the Greek border "completely."

He said Yugoslavia would help his country develop friendly relations with the West (and would make the lot of the Communist guerrillas in Greece harder).

But Tito made it clear Yugoslavia never will abandon her claim for a slice of Austria's Carinthia, relinquish its voice in determining the future of independent Trieste.

On both those points he lined up against objectives of the West.

Tito was denounced as a Communist heretic on June 28, 1948. He was expelled from the Cominform and was accused by Russia and the Soviet satellites of pursuing "Trotskyite" policies of nationalism.

To a world impressed by the postwar sate a molder tactics of Russia's military minded diplomacy, there seemed at first glance little chance that Tito could survive as chief of a Communist state. But he is still the head man West to find markets for Yugoslavia.

As the economic squeeze has tightened, Tito has looked to the West to find markets for Yugoslavia's exports of food, mineral ore and timber — and to collect dollars and English pounds to buy machinery and finished goods for home use.

The United States hesitated for nearly nine months while trying to decide whether the row between the Cominform and Tito was the real thing, and then removed most restrictions on American trade with Yugoslavia.

Tito's trade officials have negotiated a number of agreements with western European countries.

Naturally, this hasn't pleased the Russians. The Soviet press has blasted away at charges that Tito has been flirting with the "capitalistic, imperialistic" west.

Tito's Defiance of Moscow One of Great Human Dramas of Our Time, Says Mackenzie

By DeWitt MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the great human dramas of our time is the defiance of Russia by Marshal Tito, Yugoslav dictator, who has been outlawed by the Soviet for pursuing nationalism for his country, contrary to the policy of the Kremlin which holds in effect that sovereignty of Communist countries rests in Moscow.

I have an illuminating account of the battle for Alex H. Singleton, AP correspondent in the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade, and I want to present him here as guest columnist. He observes that Tito has turned to the Western powers to ease the economic pressure being applied against him by the Communist countries of eastern Europe, and continues:

For more than a year Tito has withstood Moscow's attempts to bring him to his knees. It is obvious that the Kremlin's order has been to starve him out, and members of the Cominform (Communist information bureau) have been following instructions.

Trade ties have been cut between Yugoslavia and four Cominform countries — Albania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland. Yugoslav commerce with Bulgaria and Romania is almost dead. Traffic with Russia has been reduced to a trickle.

Tito's reaction was made clear in a speech. He declared that Yugoslavia would trade with the West for the time being, and would not have political strings are attached. Said the marshal:

"When we sell copper we buy machines. We do not sell our consciences or our souls, but just copper."

At the same time he announced officially that Yugoslavia is looking for loans. These include $200,000 from the International bank.

Approval of the loan would ease a lot of Yugoslavia's economic growing pains.

Tito also cleared the air a bit on a number of political points. He said Yugoslavia planned to close the Greek border "completely."

He said Yugoslavia would help his country develop friendly relations with the West (and would make the lot of the Communist guerrillas in Greece harder).

But Tito made it clear Yugoslavia never will abandon her claim for a slice of Austria's Carinthia, relinquish its voice in determining the future of independent Trieste.

High Brass to Dig Facts for Cool Congress

Washington July 30 — (P) — The nation's top brass was Europe-bound today to seek more information for a congressional committee still not sold on President Truman's big program to arm friendly nations.

The joint chiefs of staff left Washington last night after testifying behind the closed doors of the House foreign affairs committee on the $1,400,000,000 arms proposal.

On their return in about ten days, the military heads of the army, navy and air force are expected to meet with the committee again for "more extended" discussions.

If they gave the house group any startling secret testimony yesterday it was not disclosed. Committee members said the meeting could as well have been public.

"They gave us some figures on Russian military strength which we have seen published already," a Republican member told news.

"But they did not tell us anything to clear up some

At the Saenger Sunday

GENE KELLY and FRANK SINATRA in MGM's "TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME," in color by Technicolor, with ESTHER WILLIAMS.

Take Me Out to Ball Game, Saenger Film

With the excitement and color of a big-league ball park as its background, M-G-M offers as infectious new Technicolor musical in "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," at the Saenger theatre Sunday.

Its stars are Frank Sinatra, with Betty Garrett, Edward Arnold and Jules Mueslin (the comic writer of "Easter Parade") in a guarantee of home runs in song, romance and laughter. And "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" has all three in a big way.

The fun revolves around two members of a ball team whose owner unexpectedly arrives in Florida to supervise spring training. Shortstop Kelly, first baseman Munshin and second baseman Sinatra, who form the outstanding infield combination are how prepared to put the owner in his place but they hadn't reckoned on its being a girl. It's Esther Williams, of course, and she proves not only curvaceous but able to put down the law about training rules, etc., Kelly tries to win her over with some smooth hoofing and some even smoother romance.

Williams, who finds herself head-over-heels in love with the team's beguiling owner.

The complications are eventually ironed out to the accompaniment of explosive laughs and a hit parade of songs, with Kelly and Miss Williams discovering they are made for each other and with Sinatra snared by Betty Garrett.

(Incidentally, girls, here's a tip on how to get your man. Merely sling him over your shoulder and hear for the nearest preacher. That's what Miss Garrett does!)

All of the stars participate in the films melody interludes, which feature a wide variety of songs among them, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," "Bless the Little Bell," "O'Brien to Ryan to Goldberg," "The Right Girl for Me," "It's Fate, Baby, It's Fate," "The Hat My Father Wore Upon U. S. A." and "Strickly Class."

Busby Berkeley's direction is fast-paced and sparkling, while Arthur Freed again contributes his distinctive production touches which helped make such musicals as "Easter Parade" and "The Pirate" outstanding hits. An delightful, fun-packed entertainment, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" is definitely in the Big League class.

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
When the Hebrew poet looked into the heart of man, he saw both good and evil. He saw in man an image of God that had marred and defiled. But he reality of the heart of God only the goodness of which man at his highest and best, and in his noblest aspirations, bore the marks.

He linked man with God — man in his weakness and sin and need, on peace, the Perfect Being, perfect in true righteousness, in holiness and beauty. He found the evidence of God in the heavens, which declared God's glory, and in the firmament showed his handiwork; but he found the evidence also in man himself, in the law of the Lord, converting the soul, in the "Clean heart of the Lord, enduring forever, and in the judgments of the Lord, true and righteous altogether" (Psalm 19).

This note of confidence in God is the deepest and strongest note in the Psalms. It reaches great heights and deep intensities in Psalm 46.

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea."

To get the real significance of those words and some sense of the depth of their faith and trust in God, one must realize the situation of the Psalmist who wrote them. He was not living in a safe land, the midst of great, ancient, warring empires. Again and again it had been overrun, its people destroyed, its cities razed to the ground.

Northern Kingdom of Ten Tribes had been so completely overwhelmed, that it was never re-established. The constant danger and threat were similar to those experienced by nations have experienced, and which, in the last few years, has been in a sense, a hang the world in an atomic age, when moral and spiritual power has not kept pace with powers of destruction.

But the Psalmist was not lacking in moral and spiritual power. His expression of boundless faith in God, no matter what might happen was not a figure of speech, or a matter of words, but the profound conviction of a reality. I think it is to be found in the closing verse of Romans 8, where Paul having listed all possible human experiences of suffering and disaster, and then all possible forces and powers says that none of these things shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus Our Lord.

What a faith to have! How can we get it? I think only by living and communing with those who have it, and above all finding the reality of the presence of Christ Himself. To know Him, I think, is to live with Him in the pages of the New Testament, until He becomes as real to us as He was to Paul.

So Dear to My Heart, at the Rialto

Trotting races have again become a great American passion and pastime.

Log cabin quilts are being stitched again.

The pleasant reek of prize stock rises annually under gala flags in the County Fairs in every corner of the United States.

Merry-go-rounds and thrill-ride machines, popcorn stands and cider mill, shooting gallery and dance pavilion exert their ancient spell at the County Fairs.

Moreover, the County Fair is a focal point and highlight in Walt Disney's "So Dear to My Heart," in color by Technicolor, picturing the life and adventures of a rural boy of a generation ago, interpreted in cartoon and live action opening Sunday at the Rialto.

The Pike County Fair, in Brown County, Indiana, as Stealing North describes it in his book from which the Disney picture is derived, awards a prize blue ribbon to the young boy of the story for making a champion of a discarded little black ram lamb, thus "doing the best he could with what he had" to confirm the theme of the story.

County Fair scenes, with all their color and excitement, culminate in a clash of wills between young Jeremiah Kincaid and his austere but lovable Granny Kincaid, whose problem was to raise the boy.

The action, predominantly by living players, although there is some cartoon animation to embellish the main narrative, is centered upon Bobby Driscoll, Disney's 11-year old star, as the ambitious headstrong farm lad; Beulah Bondi, as the pious, but practical grandma; Burl Ives, as the village blacksmith who sings half a dozen new songs especially written for the picture; Harry Carey (in his last role) as a shrewd judge of livestock; and human nature, and Luana Patten, the devoted comrade of Jeremiah in all the boy's adventures.

Hundreds of extra players bring authentic atmosphere and interesting bits to the action. The story of fond recollections is told via the voice of the man who was "the boy" — out of his family album and scrapbook, in animated cartoon and live action, as well as humor and tenderness and the nostalgic note of the American scene of a recent yesterday.

Millionaire Class in Great Britain Is Reduced to 54

London, July 29 — (AP) — Britain is down to its last 54 millionaires, the government reported today.

The inland revenue commissioners consider a man a millionaire if he has an annual income of 10,000 pounds ($40,000) or more.

Their report for the year ended March 31 showed a decline of two in this class compared with the 56 of the preceding 12 months.

Only 70 people in Britain were left with a net income of more than $6,000 pounds ($24,000) for the year, after paying taxes.

DOROTHY DIX Perfect Lady

A girl asks me what is my idea of a perfect lady. Well, my idea of a perfect lady is the woman who has all the virtues of her grandmother with the modern improvements of her flapper daughter.

She is a woman who strikes the happy medium between prudish shocks her, but she shocks no one herself.

She adapts herself to all circumstances and is equally at home in a place or a hotel.

In the days of prosperity, she is not puffed up by her good fortunes and when adversity comes to her, she is not crushed by it.

She never boasts, nor whines. She does not kowtow to the great, nor flatter the humble.

She is always just a little bit more considerate of the feelings and rights of those below her than she is of those above her. She never says things that wound and insult, for she knows who are incapable, because of their position, of resenting them.

She has her own opinions and convictions, but she never thrusts them upon you. She concedes to you the privilege of possessing your own religion and politics and taste in dress and method of bringing up your children.

Her good manners are as much a part of her as her skin and she never takes them off at home or saves them for company use.

She respects your privacy. No matter how intimate a friend she is, she never prides into your garbage can, nor asks you personal questions about your affairs.

She never thrusts unsought advice upon you. She assumes that you know more about your affairs than she does and, anyway, that they are none of her business.

She never feels it her duty to tell you that somebody saw your husband out having dinner with his secretary, or that the neighbors are talking about your daughter.

Legion Ball Tourney at Camden

By The Associated Press

The state is set for the Arkansas American Legion junior baseball tournament which starts Tuesday in Camden.

Little Rock and Hot Springs won the double elimination tournament playoff by sweeping to divisional championships Friday afternoon.

Other entries in the four team list are Fort Smith and Marion, West Memphis.

Hot Springs, paced by Price Gilenwater's two run homer in the ninth inning, edged Pine Bluff 5-4 to win the Southern division event at Magnolia Friday. Gilenwater's homer in the sixth inning scored in Hot Springs' part of the ninth inning after two mates had been called out.

Marion dropped an 8 to 1 victory to Little Rock's champion batters, giving the capital city boys the northern division crown. Bobby Spanik sparked the host team's victory with his four hits that scored three runs.

Previously Marion-West Memphis whipped Caraway 3-0 to take the eastern division crown. Fort Smith edged the western division crown by doubling Charleston two in a row, 2-1 and 8-3.

Barons Only 2 Games Out of Dixie Lead

By The Associated Press

The Birmingham Barons looked like the Nashville Vols last night in the Vols' home park — Sulphur Dell.

It was a slick piece of act stealing and the 14-6 victory left the two games back of the league leading Vols.

As usual, home runs about the story, but for a change the enemy did most of the shelling. Birmingham got 17 hits, three of them homers across the fences of the Lipault Dell.

It usually the other way around in the Del with Nashville knocking the daylight out of the opposition and boards out of the fences. And it must have been strange for 6,631 Nashvillians to watch their team get beat the way the Vols usually do the beating.

While those two scrap it out for the Southern association lead, the rest of the league tightened up the race of the also rans.

Chattanooga and Memphis — lowest ranking teams in the loop — both won. Chattanooga did what Atlanta did very close to beat Memphis. The score was 8-7. Memphis whipped New Orleans 4-1 for their 12th victory in 16 games.

The final game was a 5-1 victory

Cotton Men Have Triple Headache on Today's Sales

Dallas, Tex., July 29 — (AP)—Cotton men apparently have a triple headache that stems from three causes: Synthetics, competition in the world market and price support and production.

Speakers at the tenth annual meeting of the Cotton Research Congress today indicated these were the prime ailments of the industry.

Three men lunched these phrases in speeches prepared for delivery at various sessions of the congress today.

Clarence A. Wiley, a professor of economics at the University of Texas, said there was "sufficient evidence to justify the conclusion that the cotton economy of the United States is sick."

He suggested the number of cotton farmers be reduced and that the remainder be highly mechanized.

New York, July 30 — (AP)—The International Boxing Club, with three outdoor shows already carded, intends to run weekly Friday night fight programs in the Garden of St. Nick's.

Procy, Jim Norris, who'll remain in New York to complete the outdoor business, also plans to put on two big cards a month in the Chicago stadium and two in Detroit Olympia each month.

Maybe he'll have to establish a firm system to develop fighters for this setup. Bobby Feller says he'll forego any barnstorming next fall and give his fighting arm a complete rest.

Bobby explains he is still as weak as a result of the back injury he suffered during spring training, but that it doesn't hurt and he's sure it will come back.

Nothing Across

Eddie Joost, the belatedly-sensational Athletic shortstop, claims a perfect record as a manager. "I was a manager for one day and I didn't lose. I might add I didn't win," Eddie says. "It was when Joost was playing for Rochester in the Burlington Grinnes in 1949. Boiling hot and I got chased from the park nearly every day and Eddie would take over. Finally the Cardinal organization decided to dispense with Grimes and the Rochester business manager persuaded me to take the job. That night the game was rained out and the next day the Cards sent a man to talk to Joost. Eddie explained he had hopes of returning to the majors so the manager relented and gave him managerial duties and sent him to Benny Borgmann to finish the season.

The Youngstown, Ohio, Athletics of the mid-Atlantic league claim to have the longest-hitting club in the minors. They hammered out 92 homers in their first 94 games, with Lew "Shine" Richardson belting 18 to set the pace.

Week End Notes

Lou Boudreau finally admits that he'll never be a shortstop again. He says his legs have lost their spring. "We've got a spring chicken. . . Bob Carpenter, the Phillies president, and Connie Mack, Jr., of the Athletics both are former Duke U. athletes — but not baseball players. Bob played football and Connie basketball.

For Mobile over Little Rock — maledicting 11th consecutive time Little Rock has taken a beating.

Little Rock has yet to win in Mobile and unless the Travs play differently they'll never win one there.

Wojcie Wójcik gave Little Rock two hits while Alvin Karpis got 12 hits to thoroughly decide the game. The game made it four straight for Mobile.

UCLA, Portland and San Jose State replace SMU, Michigan State and Nevada on Santa Clara's football schedule next fall.

Cards, Brooks Tie for 2nd Straight Time

Hail the clock — new chief umpire of the National League.

With two games called a tie by the time keeper, the man with the watch is becoming more important than the players.

Curlew struck at 1:10 a. m. (EST) today at Sportsman's park with the Dodgers and Cards locked in a 3-3 tie at the end of nine innings. National league rules say they can't start a new inning of a night game after 12:50 a. m. (local time) so extra innings were out of the question. A heavy rain delayed the start.

Brooklyn almost missed a chance to tie the score for they barely completed the eighth inning, with St. Louis holding a 3-2 edge, at 12:47 a. m. St. Louis time (CDT).

As it was, the Dodgers managed to push over a run in the ninth on a walk to Roy Campanella, a pinch single by Marv Rickard and an outfield fly by Pee Wee Reese that scored Eddie Miksis, running for Campanella.

It was tough and got at the plate on Miksis who just made it from the outfield. Chuck Diering made a shoestring catch on Reese's liner. Catcher Del Rice dropped Diering's peg as Miksis slid home with the tying run but no error was charged.

Howie Pollet, trying for his 14th win, had a shutout 3-0 at the end of seven innings with Nippy Jones and Marty Marion driving in the runs. A walk and successive singles by Carl Furillo, Jackie Robinson and Gil Hodges gave the Dodgers two in the eighth. Ted Wilks came in to strike out pinch hitter Gene Hermanski to end the rally.

St. Louis remains a game and a half in front of the run-rump Dodgers with another night game slated for tonight and a day game Sunday.

Hermi Wehmeier, 22-year-old Cincinnati right-hander, pitched his best game of the season and his best New York win, four hits, 3-0, in the only other National league game played.

Pittsburgh and Boston played three innings of their night game at Forbes field before a storm forced the game to be called on account of wet grounds.

Successive home runs by Johnny Lindell and Bill Johnson enabled the New York Yankees to add a half game to their American league lead with a 3-2 edge over Chicago while Cleveland split a day-night doubleheader at Boston. The results put the Yanks out front by 4 1/2 games.

Cleveland rebounded from a 2-1 afternoon defeat at Boston to smother the Red Sox in the night game, 9-3. The Tribe routed Chuck Stobbs, promising young left-hander, before he retired a man in a four-run first inning at night.

Dom DiMaggio hit safely in both games, ending his consecutive game hitting streak, to 25, longest of the season in the majors.

Connie Mack's surging Philadelphia A's ran their winning string to six, their longest of the year, by downing Detroit, 5-3.

The St. Louis Browns, struggling to escape from the cellar, scored four in the 10th inning to hand Washington its 14th loss in 15 games, 6-2.

Military Works Bill Is Shelved for Another Year

Washington, July 29 — (AP)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house armed services committee said today a $613,000,000 military public works bill has been shelved until next year.

Approved by the armed services committee, the authorization measure earlier had been slated for house action this session. Vinson said it will not be called up.

The decision to hold the bill back reportedly resulted from agreement among house leaders not to press for action now on any big-money measure that can be put off until next year.

The public works bill includes funds for housing for service men and their families.

The measure would authorize the expenditure but would not actually provide the money.

The authorization included: $247,356,841 for the air force, $200,862,801 for the navy; and $165,594,000 for the army.

El Dorado's Homer Beats Natchez 7-6

By The Associated Press

Sluggish Jimmy Morgan of the El Dorado Oilers broke up the second game of a twin bill with Natchez Friday night when he poked a long hit to right field with two mates aboard.

Right-hander Ralph Daugherty was credited with both wins. He went the route for El Dorado in the first game, giving up only four hits, then relieved Jim Peckenka in the last inning of the second game. The Oilers squeezed by with a 7-6 victory. They won the opener going away, 11-1.

The lowly Hot Springs Bathers showed no respect for new-comer "Cotton" Hill of the Pine Bluff Cardinals. Hill, just purchased from the Clarksdale Planters, was chased to the showers in the seventh inning. The Bathers blasted twin hits off Hill and then went on to sock four more off two reliever pitchers to swamp the Cardinals 11-2.

The league-leading Greenwood Dodgers downed the Clarksdale Bucks 7-3 in a fast moving tilt in the first game. The Bucks outthrew the Dodgers but came out on the short end in the run department.

Down in Helena, the Clarksdale Planters poured it on the Seaporters in a high-scoring game to win. Planter Earnie Davis had a field day as he socked three singles, a double, scored twice, and drove in two runs. Clarksdale Manager Clinton Dahlberg clouted a triple and three singles.

Saturday night's games. Hot Springs at Clarksdale. Pine Bluff at Greenwood. Helena at El Dorado. Greenville at Natchez.
